20 - 28* At the Gallery: Members' Show "Family and Other Animals"
Man has made images of mankind and animals from the beginning of time. Why? Artists are invited to immortalize, satirize, blend, create a new species, or a new family, capture a likeness, expose a soul or maybe explore how far they can push their imagination with wild fantasy creatures. Work will be in many mediums. The pictured critter was created by Beth Holyoke for last year's Members show.

* The YSAC Community Gallery is open from Wednesday - Sunday from 1 - 4 pm.

All events take place at the 111 Corry Street unless otherwise noted.

This schedule is subject to change.

18 – 30* At the Gallery: "The Sunflower Show", a group show presented by Tecumseh Land Trust

The Dayton Visual Arts Center (DVAC) encourages painting in nature through 'Paint Outs' at various sites in the Miami Valley. In September of 2014, DVAC collaborated with Tecumseh Land Trust and with Dave and Sharen Neuhardt, owners of Whitehall Farm, to invite both kids and adults to paint for a day in the Neuhardt's 10 acre sunflower field. Both experienced and novice artists gathered, painted, drew, and discussed their art with each other and with Wright State Emeritus Professor David Leach. The art produced on and around this day forms our body of work. Some artists will offer their work for sale.
